

Main table containing company information, including columns for company name, address, business scope, and financial data. The table is organized in a grid format with multiple columns.