

(上接 A24)

Table with columns for company name, address, and financial data. The table is split into two main sections, each containing a grid of rows with detailed information for various companies and their financial metrics.

(下接 A26)